"The most brutally addictive fantasy I've read in a decade!"
—#1 NYT BESTSELLING AUTHOR TRACY WOLFF

FOURTH WING

Enter the brutal and elite world of a war college for dragon riders from NYT bestselling author Rebecca Yarros

Twenty-year-old Violet Sorrengail was supposed to enter the Scribe Quadrant, living a quiet life among books and history. Now, the commanding general—also known as her tough-as-talons mother—has ordered Violet to join the hundreds of candidates striving to become the elite of Navarre: dragon riders.

But when you're smaller than everyone else and your body is brittle, death is only a heartbeat away...because dragons don't bond to "fragile" humans. They incinerate them.

With fewer dragons willing to bond than cadets, most would kill Violet to better their own chances of success. The best would kill her just for being her mother's daughter—like Xaden Riorson, the most powerful and ruthless wingleader in the Riders Quadrant.

She'll need every edge her wits can give her just to see the next sunrise.

Yet, with every day that passes, the war outside grows more deadly, the kingdom's protective wards are failing, and the death toll continues to rise. Even worse, Violet begins to suspect leadership is hiding a terrible secret.

Friends, enemies, lovers. Everyone at Basgiath War College has an agenda—because once you enter, there are only two ways out: graduate or die.

ASSISTANT TO THE VILLAIN

Once Upon a Time meets The Office in TikTok sensation Hannah Maehrer's laugh-out-loud viral fantasy series turned novel about the sunny assistant to the Evil Villain...and their unexpected romance.

Evie Sage has been working for the Villain for exactly five months. She thought that being the assistant for Rennewald's lord of darkness might make her a little more, yunno, evil. Instead, she's getting used to suspended severed heads, the screams of fear, and the odd squish of an errant eyeball beneath her heel.

Of course, no job is perfect, especially when you have a teeeeny crush on your terrifying, temperamental, and undeniably hot boss. Don't find evil so attractive, Evie.

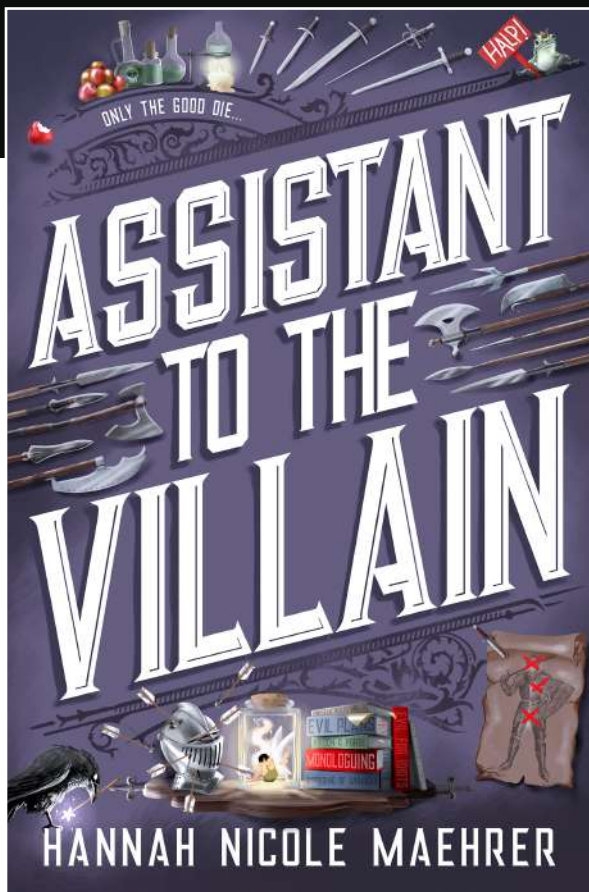

Only something is rotten is growing in the kingdom of Rennewald. Someone wants to take the Villain—and his entire nefarious empire—out. Now Evie is determined to figure out exactly who is sabotaging her boss, and ensure he makes them pay.

After all, a good job is hard to find.

SANCTUARY OF THE SHADOW

The Bourne Identity meets the magic system of Shadow and Bone, with a compelling ensemble cast, high heat levels, and the political intrigue and rich lore in the style of The Witcher.

Harrow was born during a war between two of the five capricious Elemental Queens. It was a war of fury and attrition, and it exacted its price in blood. In one grim night, the last of the water Elementals—the Seers—were killed. All but Harrow. Now she lives among the safety of a circus run by a centuries-old Enchanter, hiding her true nature and her gift.

But the circus has acquired a new attraction. A creature black as night, powerfully muscled and with wings and inky-black eyes that dance with fire. An Elemental with no recollection of who he is. Though others fear the half-feral man in the cage, only Harrow senses that Raith isn't what he first seems. And there's a temptation between them that calls to the deepest parts of her soul...

Now the bond between them will shake the foundations of their world. Every human, every Elemental—and even the five powerful Queens. Harrow's gift has never been wrong. But Raith's true darkness may be deeper than Harrow's light can illuminate. Especially when unspeakable secrets can hide in the shadows...

THE LAST ONE

Stranger Things meets Lord of the Rings in a new series from author Rachel Howzell Hall, where a young woman awakens in a field with no memory and learns that the world is dying—and that she is the only one who can save it from an evil, destructive force... herself.

My name is Kai. I wish I can say that my life has changed. But I don't remember my life before today.

I wake up, naked and voiceless, in a forest outside a town called Maford. Everyone I meet there either fears me or loathes me. Strange beasts, otherworldly creatures, hunt me. Each time I fight them, I unlock new powers—seeing the glow of death, moving objects with a flick of my hand, controlling the weather.

I do have a weakness. The moment I touch another, a piece of me dies. Yes, I'm dying every day. That's why I need to know right now: who am I? What am I? I need answers before I perish.

But my amulet—the source of my power—has been stolen. I know the thief—Adara and I were friends. Or so I thought. She lies. Now, I must work with her brother Jadon, the town's blacksmith, to reclaim all that's mine.

There's a problem, though. A white-haired woman named Elyn has come to Maford, and she claims that we are old friends. Like Adara, Elyn also lies. She's stronger and stranger than me, and she's trying to stop me...

From what? I don't know. But I must be powerful. I must be someone. Who?

INTERNATIONAL AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR
CECY ROBSON

BLOODGUARD

Gladiator meets Dungeons and Dragons in this searingly hot and dangerously addictive New Adult fantasy romance from award-winning author Cecy Robson, where one man must fight to become the next Bloodguard if he hopes to save his family—and his new love.

They took everything from me.

My home. Family. My freedom. Even my free will. All they have left me with is this body, honed after six years of gladiator battles, death, and fighting just for the right to breathe another day.

But once I am crowned Bloodguard and granted my freedom, my body will become a weapon of revenge. It's time that the elves—who killed us, enslaved us, and stained our hands red with the blood of our friends—pay for a century of vicious cruelty against this kingdom.

Now I'm almost free. I can almost taste it, savor the crown that tens of thousands have died for.

Which is exactly when I am placed in the care of Maeve, a healer elf with a sharp tongue, and gods help me, I want her. I want her with all the rage and bitterness and pain of the life I've lost.

Having her, loving her...it's a fate far worse than death.

Because when you have nothing left but revenge, love is the only thing that can destroy you.

THE WREN IN THE HOLLY LIBRARY

A Darker Shade of Magic meets Six of Crows, in this alternate day New York where monsters live among humankind, from USA Today bestselling author K.A. Linde.

“What are you?”

Street thief Kierse should have known something wasn't right. Now she's trapped in the library of an old Brownstone...with a monster. His powers aren't supposed to exist. She can't run. She can't hide. And this man—this being, filled with terrible power and darkness—is well within his rights to kill her.

Thirteen years ago, the monsters came into the light and brutalized her world. The Monster Treaty invoked a kind of peace—one that isn't always honored. Now Kierse has broken the treaty. But instead of killing her, Graves does the unexpected: he offers her a job...a glimpse into who she really is.

Kierse has always known she's different. That she can do things a little better, a little faster. And there's that sense she has when danger is only a breath away. But if the old tales are true, there are worse things in the world than monsters.

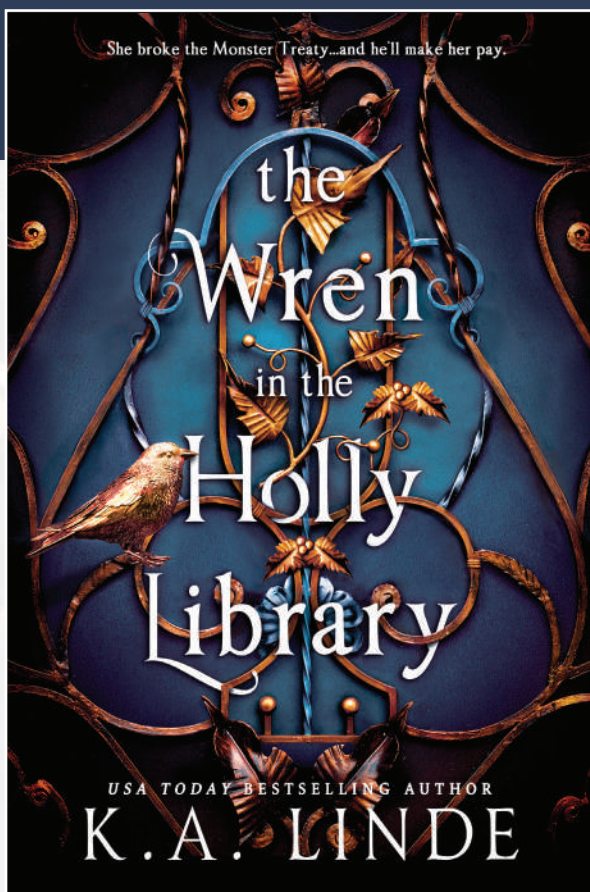

Like a threat more ancient than legend.

Like Graves.

Or like Kierse herself...

The Seven Stations Series, Book 1

HEAVENBREAKER

From NY Times bestselling author Sara Wolf comes a new far-futuristic medieval space opera with giant robot space-jousting, epic violence, and heart-pounding romance.

In Synali von Hauteclare's world, blood is all that matters.

In a massive space station that houses the last of humanity, the king rules. Nobles dance. Commoners starve. And when they aren't starving, they watch the riding tournaments between the giant robots called "steeds"—once used in the war against the enemy, now repurposed for honorable lance-to-lance high-speed combat with a gravity generator. Only nobles may have the honor of riding. Only nobles may have the glory. Only nobles have the blood.

In Synali von Hauteclare's world, she's a bastard; her mother a commoner, her father a duke. And she's just killed him.

But he killed first.

Seven people in House Hauteclare helped her father hire an assassin to kill her and her mother. Synali survived. Her mother did not. And now Synali will do anything to make them pay, even ally with a noble, her sworn enemy. Now she's made a deal: for every win she scores in the upcoming Supernova Cup, this enigmatic nobleman will kill one of the seven. She's never ridden, and the steed her new ally gives her—Heavenbreaker—sings strange lullabies in its hangar. And, increasingly, in her mind.

With her half sibling, Mirele von Hauteclare on her trail, and hotshot pilot Rax who's trying to get in her bed, Synali has her hands full.

But blood is all that matters. And she will ensure they see much of it.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Multi-award-winning author Abigail Owen writes adult paranormal romance and upper YA fantasy romance. She loves plots that move hot and fast, feisty heroines with sass, heroes with heart, a dash of snark, and oodles of HEAs! Other titles include wife, mother, Star Wars geek, eMBA, Texan, Aggie, and chocoholic. Abigail currently resides in Austin, Texas, with her own swoon-worthy hero husband and their angelic (mostly) kids, who are growing up way too fast.
